

ELECTRONIC MAIL LEGAL NOTICE

1. This email legal notice is enforceable and binding on the recipient / addressee in terms of sections 11(1) to 11(3) of the Electronic Communications and Transactions (“ECT”) Act 25 of 2002. The ECT Act may be downloaded from: <http://www.polity.org.za/article/electronic-communications-and-transactions-act-no-25-of-2002-2002-01-01>
2. This e-mail transmission may contain confidential information, which is intended to be the property of Cell C (Pty) Ltd (“Cell C”). No person, other than the recipient (so indicated by the sender) may use or disclose the contents of this message, links or attachments hereto. Unauthorised disclosure and/or use may result in civil and criminal liability.
3. The information in this e-mail or attachments thereto is intended for the attention and use of the addressee only. If you are not the intended addressee/recipient, you are hereby notified that any disclosure, copying or distribution of the contents of this e-mail transmission or the taking of any action in reliance thereon or pursuant thereto, is strictly prohibited. Should you have received this email in error, please delete and destroy it and any attachments thereto immediately. At no time may you act on the information contained therein.
4. The e-mail address of the sender may not be used, copied, sold, disclosed or incorporated into any database or mailing list for spamming and/or other marketing practices without the prior consent of Cell C.
5. Computer viruses can be transmitted via e-mail and its included files. The recipient should check this e-mail and all included files for the presence of viruses. Cell C shall not be liable, in any manner whatsoever, for any damage, loss or liability that is caused by any virus transmitted by this e-mail and its included files. E-mail transmission cannot be guaranteed to be secure or error-free as information could be intercepted, corrupted, lost, destroyed, arrive late or incomplete, or contain viruses. Cell C also does not accept any liability for e-mail messages sent to the addressee as a consequence of this e-mail message whether done so automatically or such requiring human intervention. The sender therefore does not accept liability for any errors or omissions in the contents of this message, which arise as a result of this e-mail transmission
6. Although Cell C has taken reasonable precautions to ensure no viruses are present in this e-mail, Cell C cannot accept responsibility for any loss or damage arising from the use of this e-mail or included files.
7. Under no circumstances shall Cell C or the sender of this email be liable to any party for any direct, indirect, special or consequential damages, including, without limitation, any loss of profits, business interruption, loss of programs or other data on information handling systems or otherwise, even if Cell C or the sender of this email have been expressly advised of the possibility of such damages.
8. Any agreements concluded with Cell C by using electronic correspondence shall only come into effect if Cell C indicates such contract formation in a follow up or return communication.
9. No employee or agent is authorised to conclude any binding agreement on behalf of Cell C with another party by e-mail without express written confirmation by the relevant Cell C person with the necessary authority
10. No e-mail correspondence sent to Cell C shall be deemed to have been received until Cell C has responded thereto. An auto-reply shall not constitute such “response” for purposes of this clause.
